Dear John,

enclosed is your article on the underwater trail in Gordons Bay, which I unfortunately cannot accept for publication in SCUBA DIVER in its present format.

The reason I am sending your article back is that it isn't written in SCUBA DIVER style. I see your article essentially as a Scuba Sites feature, focusing on a specific dive site with descriptive detail and a map. I have enclosed a back issue to give you some idea of the style, which must include photographs (doesn't have to be your own) and some basic travel information (local dive shops, boat ramps, etc).

From the style of the article you sent me, it looks like it was intended to be a brochure. If you'd be willing to re-work it some and include some photos, I'd be glad to reconsider it for publication. It's definitely the subject matter I am looking for.

Thank you for considering SCUBA DIVER as a forum for your material. I look forward to your continued support.

Yours sincerely,

Cassie Welsh
